WHERE THEY PLAY MONDAY.
Richmond at Danville.
Roanoke at Norfolk.
Portsmouth at Lynchburg.

With the one and only "Dutch" Revelle on the firing line our Champions Colts showed some real classy form both in hitting and fielding yesterday afternoon, and they copied the faraway game of the series from Smiling Al Orth and his Hill Climbers by a margin of 4 to 2. It wasn't easy sailing by any means, and the visitors gave the 9,000 fans present a bad scare in the good-night frame, for when Perry Lipe put an end to the struggle by hitting over to the centre of the diamond and squeezing Wallace's high fly, third and second bases were very much populated by Bootmakers, and a clean drive would have served up the count.

It was Revelle's thirteenth victory in fourteen games pitched this season, which is some record. The area who will claim that "Dutch" looked like a champion, but they are mistaken in that. True the Shoemakers found him for ten hits, but he kept them well scattered, except in the opening round, and had his big right in the eighth not taken a bad bound and gone over Titman's head, the visitors would have made out one run. "Dutch" was a little free with his passes at times, and got into several bad holes, but at such times he and the men behind him lightened up, and he always emerged unscathed. Two lightning double plays helped wonderfully in cutting off budding runs.

Mountaineers Lead Procession.

As the Tars very accommodatingly walloped the Red Sox while the Champions were taking a fall out of the Shoemakers, Richmond is tied with Danville for second place. Shaughnessy, the Terrible, and his Mountaineers whaled the life out of the Trunkers and are leading the procession. Also, Roanoke fandom is almost wild with joy to-day. To-morrow the Champs go up against the Red Sox at Danville on the Tars in the city by the sea. There'll be some merry scraps for you. But to return to the little mix-up on the Broad Street lot. The way those pesky Shoemakers started after "Dutch" in the curtain-raising affair it looked as if the visitors would carry off the third game of the series. However, Revelle settled down to business after the opener, and kept the hits well scattered. Then the Champions got busy with their bats, and in the way they pounded Griffin in one or two rounds was a sin and a shame. Seiber, Kanzler and Titman batted like fiends, and "Artie" Smith broke his hoodoo in the fifth and slammed one to his favorite corner over third, and Titman romping home with the fourth count for Richmond. Titman was the real hero with the willow, his first hit, a peach of a double to left, scoring Jay Kanzler in the first count, and his second hit, another peach of a double to left, scoring Lipe and Lipe. "Doc" Seiber contributed a triple and a single, but unfortunately, neither counted in the run-getting. But they swelled the "Dutch" batting average, which is an important thing for a man who distinguishes himself by making ing a couple of nice running catches in right field.

J. Ison Again the Hero.
Again Ison was the hero in the fielding. He ate up everything that came within a block of second, and figured in both of the very timely double plays. Sandherr, Lipe and Smith also did some classy fielding, but Smith had hard luck in the ninth when he dropped Griffin's fly after a long and hard run.

"Buck" Hooker led the major portion of the classy fielding for Lynchburg, several of his running catches being loudly applauded. In the eighth he raced across the field and robbed Smith of a nice hit by making a wonderful catch. Stanley Bigbie, another Richmond boy, made some nice scoops or low throws, while Ziegler did some clever fielding at the third corner. Bigbie also did some fall hitting, smacking out two singles and one triple and getting one pass in four times up.

"Runt" Lawrence opened the game by smacking the first ball pitched for a neat single. Lawrence felt a little cheery over the performance and tried to steal second and Messitt and Sandherr cut him down. "Dutch" walked Jackson and Hooker singled to right, advancing Jackson to second. Smith captured Wallace's long drive, but Orth singled to centre, scoring Jackson. "Doc" Seiber made a fine running catch of Pratt's drive between centre and left and the round ended. Champs Promptly Tie Score.

The Champions promptly tied the score in the closing half of the opening round. Ison and Lipe were easy outs, but Jay Kanzler dumped a Texas leaguer back of second and then stole second on Pratt. Titman electrified the crowd by smacking a double to left, scoring Kanzler. Wallace made a nice running catch of Smith's drive.

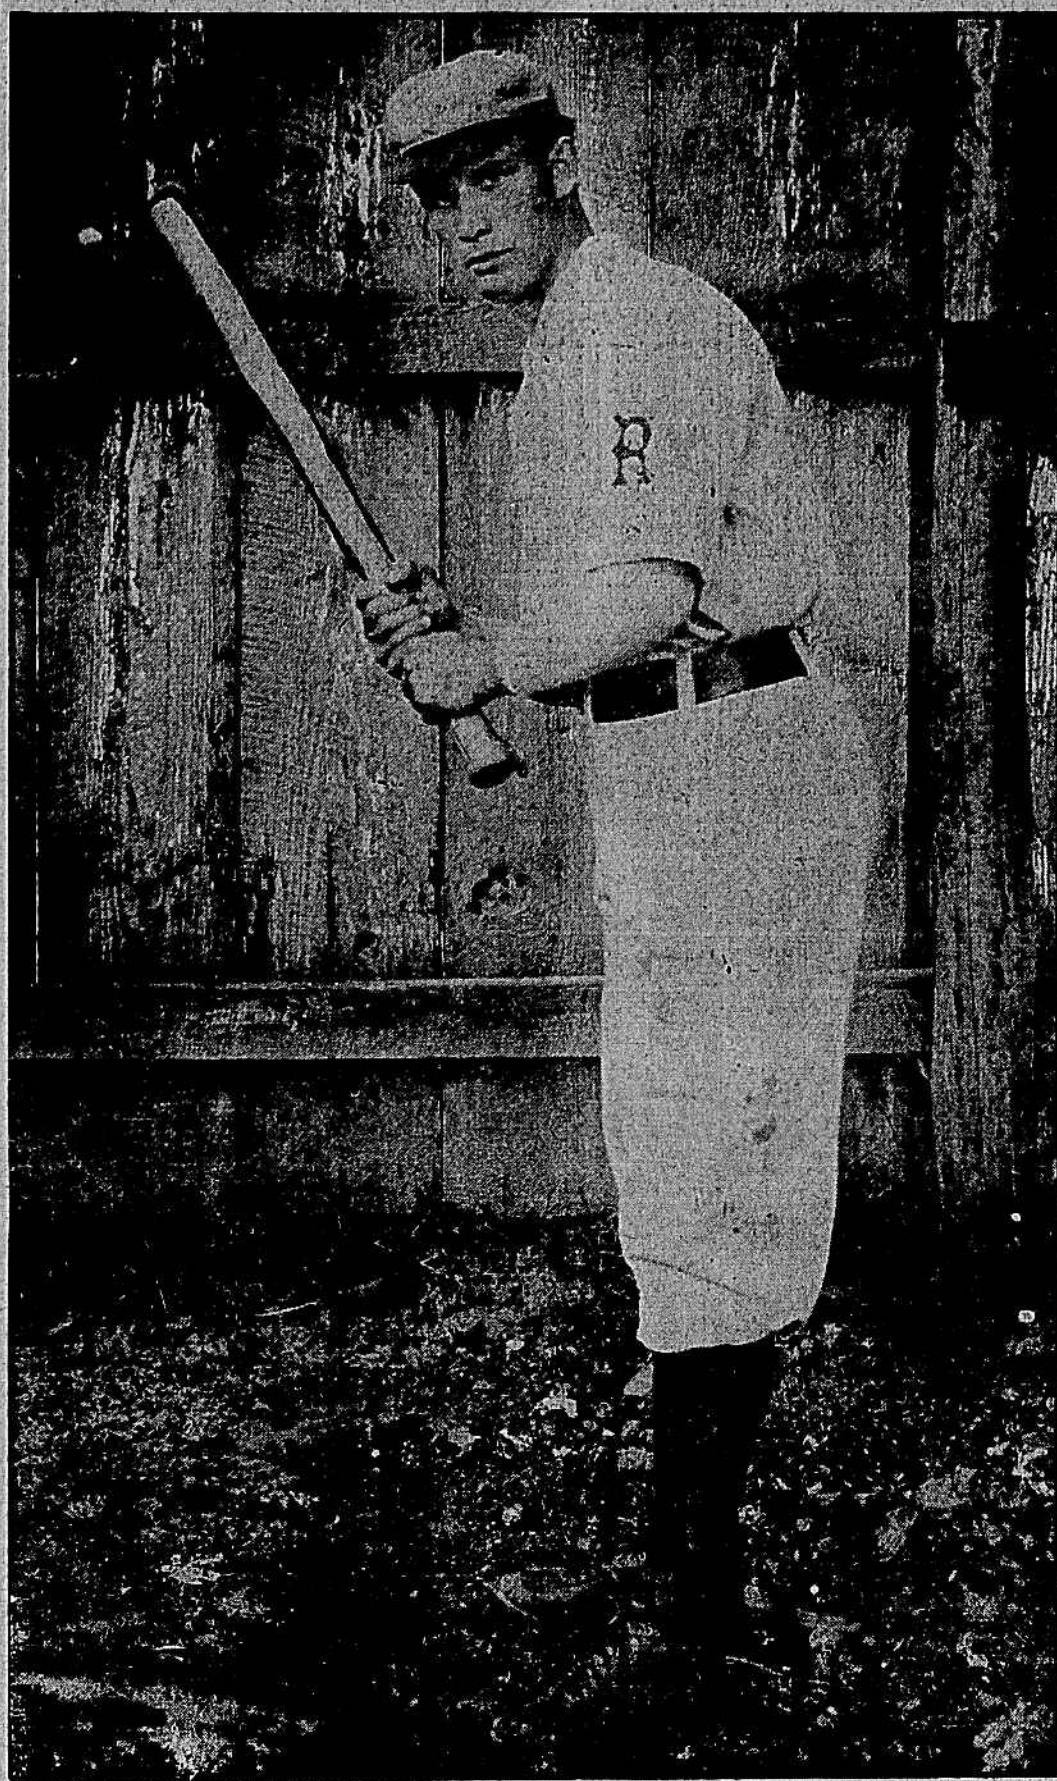

Orth's crowd gave the fans a horrible scare in the second. Bigbie drew a pass and Ziegler singled to left field. Griffin advanced both men with a sacrifice. Lawrence hit a line drive between first and second, and at the crack of the bat Ziegler started to third and Bigbie for home. Jimmy Ison caught the liner, however, and quickly doubled Ziegler at second. Again in the fourth the visitors looked dangerous, a single and a pass putting two on, but "Dutch" ended the agony by striking Griffin out.

Big Fireworks in Fifth.
The real big fireworks came off in the ending of the fifth chapter. Revelle started by hitting a slow grounder to Orth, and Al let it roll between his legs. Ison laid down a perfect bunt and beat the throw a block. Revelle going to second. Lipe bunted, but Griffin cut "Dutch" off at third. Kanzler advanced both runners by grounding out to Bigbie. Guy Titman then came forth with a corking smash to left for two sacks, and Ison and Lipe counted. Smith stepped to the plate with blood in his eye, and he smashed the ball over third so fast that Ziegler was nearly bowled over by the wind of it. Titman counted, and Smith went to second on the throw home. Sandherr ended the round by fanning.

The Bootmakers got one more in the eighth. After Wallace had gone out to Titman, Orth showed 'em that he, too, could lay down a perfect bunt. Pratt forced Orth at second, and Ison threw wild in attempting to complete a double, and Pratt went to second. Bigbie smacked his third hit to right and the ball bounced over Titman's head, Pratt counting and Bigbie bringing up at third. Messitt gobbled Ziegler's high fly, and the agony was over for the time being.

Griffin opened the ninth with a hard smash to right centre, and Smith made a great run, but the ball got away from him. This style of his being fashionable, Lawrence also laid down a perfect bunt and beat it to first. Griffin going to second, Jackson sacrificed both men and bases and things looked gloomy. Hooker hit to right, but Titman caught the ball and held Griffin at third. Then Wallace lifted a high fly in the centre of the diamond and Lipe rushed over and captured it.

CHAMPIONS' SLUGGER

ARTHUR SMITH, Leading batsman and base runner of the Virginia League, has slumped in his hitting lately, but the fans are confident that he will "come back" in a few days.

CHEVROLET IS WINNER IN SPECTACULAR RACE

Many Accidents Occur to Racing Automobiles, and Winner Comes Tearing Down the Home Stretch on Three Cylinders.

CROWN POINT, IND., June 19.—A Buick forty horse-power car, driven by Louis Chevrolet, won the Cobe Cup, the major event of the Western Vanderbilt, over the 395.5 miles of the Crown Point-Lowell course to-day, by the hair-raising margin of one minute and five seconds. Bourque, in control of a Knox, who captured second honors, made so desperate a bid for victory that not until the winning machine flashed over the tape was the result at all certain to the frantic spectators. It was eight hours, one minute and thirty seconds after Starter Wagner had uttered the word "Go" that Chevrolet crossed the line for the last time. Owing to the fact that Chevrolet was the tenth entrant in a field of twelve, and that Bourque crowded so perilously close to him in the final laps, the Knox car, No. 2 on the list, was the first to pass the tape, his time being 8:02:44. At this time Chevrolet was somewhat ahead in the beginning of the long south stretch, with eight minutes in which to seize the prize. As he flashed by the stations along this part of the course, the news of his location, transmitted by wire to the judges' stand and to the water tower, aroused them to a climax of enthusiasm. The intense anxiety attending his movements to the last furlong was due in the main to a lively sense of the possibility of a disaster evolved by a multitude of rough experiences characterizing the day.

Robertson Game Loser.
George Robertson, pilot of one of the Locomobile entries, lost his race yesterday. He ran consistently. He was never worse than fifth in point of elapsed time. When Chevrolet's cylinder valve got out Robertson assumed the lead, and maintained it until the thirteenth lap, when his magneto troubles began. At one time he had a lead of twenty-four minutes, and it was generally conceded that he had won, but did happen, he could not be beaten. Trouble resulting in the withdrawal of car after car characterized the race from the start, half of them dropping out before the finish.

Florida, in a Locomobile, on the first lap broke a jack shaft, resulting in his immediate retirement. Seymour, driving an Apperson, was compelled by engine trouble to quit on the fourth round. Strang was the victim of a picturesque series of mishaps, but stuck to his task with grim singleness of purpose in spite of a hopeless prospect. Delays due to minor annoyances left him a full lap behind the leaders at the beginning of the fourth. In the fifth he was compelled to make repairs, and in the seventh and eighth laps broke down in the same spot. Undaunted, he continued only to come in on the next circuit with an incapacitated mechanical. Fred Kunze, who worn out by the heat and blinded by flying all sorts of debris, got further. Strang took on another helper and was again on his way.

Record and Order of Cars.
The following table shows the record of each driver and order of finish: Buick, Chevrolet, 8:01:39; Knox, Bourque, 8:02:44; Locomobile, Robertson, 8:14:30; Flat, Hearne, 8:22:04; Stoddard-Dayton, Englebeck, 8:26:05; Buick, Strang, thirteen laps, 8:14:15; Stoddard-Dayton, Miller, twelve laps, 8:16:34; Apperson, Lytle, eleven laps, 8:37:38; Knox, Denison, six laps, 2:29:48; Buick, Burman, five laps, 2:02:51; Apperson, Zymir, three laps, 1:26:13; Locomobile, Florida, one lap, 1:14:00. "Strang was still on the course when race finished."

Chevrolet Breaks Valve.
In the eleventh lap Chevrolet broke a valve in a cylinder. It could not be replaced and he was forced to run the rest of the day with three cylinders. The skill with which he and his mechanic handled the oil cans during a stop at the repairing pits, in spectacular competition with the teams of another racer, gained him time of immense value later.

The race, which showed an average of 49.25 miles an hour, was unusually slow for the cars of the sixty horse-power class. This was even slower than the light four days at the Spa, in the Indiana trophy event of yesterday, which reached an average speed of 51.50 miles. The trouble which assailed cars and drivers from the very beginning to-day, and the fact that the roadway at the turns was literally cut to ribbons by the almost continuous performance of the two days racing, upset all calculations.

The most conspicuous feature of today's race from a technical point of view was the wonderfully consistent performance of Chevrolet. From the start, when his laps he ran neck and neck with Denison in a Knox, his average scarcely varied eighteen seconds. Denison being put out of the running, Robertson, in a Locomobile, ran a close second to the Buick for three laps, but Chevrolet was the tenth entrant in a field of twelve, and that Bourque crowded so perilously close to him in the final laps, the Knox car, No. 2 on the list, was the first to pass the tape, his time being 8:02:44. At this time Chevrolet was somewhat ahead in the beginning of the long south stretch, with eight minutes in which to seize the prize. As he flashed by the stations along this part of the course, the news of his location, transmitted by wire to the judges' stand and to the water tower, aroused them to a climax of enthusiasm. The intense anxiety attending his movements to the last furlong was due in the main to a lively sense of the possibility of a disaster evolved by a multitude of rough experiences characterizing the day.

ATTELL GIVES NEIL AN AWFUL WHIPPING

Frankie Is Hammered Badly and Goes Down and Out in Eighteenth Round.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
SAN FRANCISCO, CAL., June 19.—Frankie Neil was knocked out in the eighteenth round by Monte Attell at the Mission Street Arena this afternoon. As Time-Keeper George Hardening was tolling off the seconds and the referee was repeating them inside the ring, Johnnie Frayne, one of Neil's seconds, pressed his way between the ropes and to the side of the fallen man. It was the finish. Roche stopped counting and waved toward Attell. Neil could hardly stand on his feet. He was helplessly beaten rounds before the end, and with no sign of a defense left, couldn't ward off a single one of the punches that were rained in upon him. It was no one punch that beat Neil, though in that eighteenth round he was cleanly knocked to the canvas with a stiff right to the jaw. It was a culmination of punches that he had been receiving from Attell's wicked left to the face that caused him to bleed profusely, and stinging punches to the body that weakened him and finally beat him.

Any time after the fourteenth round, when what little strength Frankie had left seemed to forsake him, it looked to the crowd that he might easily be knocked out. Three times in the fifteenth Neil dropped partly from blows and partly from roughing and pushing. In the sixteenth and seventeenth he was nothing more than a punching bag for Attell.

How Neil ever withstood the punishment was a wonder. If ever a kama streak was shown it was Neil's, as he blindly followed Attell at times, and Winchester Loses a Game.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
WINCHESTER, VA., June 19.—The locals met their first defeat of the season at the hands of the Westminster, Md., team at Reservoir Park to-day, the score being 4 to 3. Johnson, who twirled for Winchester, was battered freely and received poor support, errors behind him costing several runs. Wege was very effective with men on bases.

Batteries: Westminster—Wege and Gibson; Winchester—Johnson and Duffey.

Harvard Beats Pennsylvania.
CAMBRIDGE, MASS., June 19.—In a slow and uninteresting game to-day Harvard defeated Pennsylvania, 13 to 5. Hicks pitched effectively for five innings, and was then relieved by Hartford, who did fairly well. Errors were largely responsible for the runs scored by both sides.

The score by innings: R. H. E.

Racing Case Is Postponed.
FRANKFORT, KY., June 19.—The court of appeals today passed until the September term the case of the Commonwealth vs. the racing commission, involving the manner of placing wagers at the Lorton track. This act, it is understood, leaves the course unchanged, the Lorton track the right to continue bookmaking.

Winnam Gets Gold Vase.
LONDON, June 19.—By winning the gold challenge vase at Richmond Horse Show for pairs under fifteen hands, suitable for park turnouts, Coker, Rosador and Prosperine secure the vase for Mr. Winnam, who has won it three times in succession.

Mr. Watson's team of bays won the four-in-hand cup.

PRESIDENT DOVEY, OF BOSTON NATIONAL LEAGUE TEAM, DIES

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
PITTSBURG, PA., June 19.—George B. Dovey, president of the Boston National League Club and principal owner, died of heart disease early this morning on a Pennsylvania train en route from Pittsburg to Cincinnati. Before death Mr. Dovey asked the conductor to send word of his death to Gerry Herrmann, chairman of the National Commission, at Cincinnati, with whom he had an appointment to-day. Mr. Dovey recognized his approaching death and left messages to relatives.

Mr. Dovey, who was forty-eight years old, is thought to have weakened himself through worry and much traveling in search of recruits for his Boston team. He went from Pittsburg to Steubenville, O., yesterday to look at a baseball player, and then later back to Pittsburg, taking a later train for Cincinnati. It is said here that Mr. Dovey had lined up at least six ball players for the Boston team.

The death of Mr. Dovey to-day cleared up somewhat of a mystery as to the Pittsburg owner of a great block of stock in the Boston National League team. It is Lew Moren, pitcher of the Philadelphia National League team. It appears that John Moren, the rich father of the pitcher, was induced to back the Boston team financially when Dovey took hold of it, and he had since turned all his stock over to the pitcher.

OLD CHURCH, VA., June 19.—Old Church defeated the Westwood team to-day by a score of 10 to 1.

HIGHLANDERS GO TO TOP OF PILE

Shaughnessy's Mountaineers Hammer Foxen Hard and Win Easily, 9 to 1.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
ROANOKE, VA., June 19.—Through the superb pitching of Walter Doane, Roanoke's star twirler, Roanoke made it three straight, from Portsmouth today by a score of 9 to 1. By winning this afternoon, the Tigers took their first seat on the top roll of the standing of the clubs, and the fans are jubilant. The run-getting started in the first inning, and it was a swiftest throughout for the locals, they having a total of seventeen safe singles at the end of the game. Shaughnessy, in the batting with a home run, though Tyndeman and Pressly did their part, the former with four, and the latter with three hits.

Portsmouth was outplayed in every way, and the game was a walk-off. A record-breaking crowd witnessed the game. The score:

LONG JOHN FOX BLANKS RED SOX

Loos Pitches Good Game, but Allows Tars to Bunch Hits in One Round.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
NORFOLK, VA., June 19.—Unable to do anything with the subway delivery of Long John Fox, while the Tars bunched hits on Loos in the third inning and scored in the second on the poor fielding of the Bugs, Danville was shut out in the final game of the series to-day, 2 to 0. It was one of the prettiest and fastest games of the season, and the excellent work of the Tars in the field added much to the surety of victory. Time after time when the visitors tried to get into a batting rally, pretty running catches and clever stops ended their chances.

The Bugs did not seem to be in their usual aggressive form, due evidently to the fact that they recognized the weakness in the box and the improbability of Loos being able to hold a team down for twenty-two innings in three days. But Manager Stafford said it was the only hope of the team, which was not showing form and morale, being unable to do anything with the Tars.

LEWIS WOULD MEET KETCHEL

New York Middleweight Causes a Laugh by Saying Lankford Is Afraid of Him

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
NEW YORK, June 19.—Just before the Griffin-Hurley bout at the Fairmount Athletic Club, Friday night Willie Lewis, the local middleweight, who recently defeated all comers—such as they were—in France and England, was introduced to the members with the announcement that he would soon meet Stanley Ketchel at the Bronx Club. Lewis came back from Europe the other day declaring that Sam Lankford was afraid to meet him, a statement that caused considerable merriment among local sporting men. The Fairmount Club lost no time in asking Lewis if he would tackle Ketchel and met with a prompt acceptance.

Entries for the stakes to be run at Saratoga in August will close Monday, and it is safe to say that every prominent horseman in this country will send in nominations. With continuous racing for twenty-four days at the Spa, the Saratoga Racing Association is deserving of their patronage, as well as that of the public. The Spanaway, Alabama and Hopeful stakes are the richest events on the calendar, but they closed some time ago, before the policy of retrenchment went into effect. Beginning with the time-honored Saratoga handicap, for three-year-olds and upward, at a mile and a quarter, which has worth $5,000 gross this year, the list of stakes bristles with attractiveness. The Saratoga cup, of $2,000, at a mile and three-quarters, always an interesting feature at the Springs, will probably have some notable entries, while the Champion of Stakes, for three-year-olds and upward, of $2,000, the Delaware, Amsterdam and Catskill stakes also are expected to all well from the older division.
